and unlock the dimensions.*

*The Dimensions Collection is an outstanding range of single malt and single grain Scotch whiskies encompassing the full breadth of the Duncan Taylor portfolio. Containing whiskies aged up to 30 years, the Dimensions Collection showcases the multi-dimensional levels of character and flavor available from individual distilleries and casks.
The breadth of the range is matched only by the depth of the whisky.*

2002 Dalmore 15 Year Old Cask #802067

Tasting Notes:

Nose: initially quite shy but opens with time. Dusty malt with typical Dalmore orange and some lemon zest. Sugar cane syrup and sweet vanilla.

Palate: Raw barley, warm sourdough toast spread with orange marmalade, lightly honeyed with an oily mouth feel. A hint of fresh green vegetables.

Finish: good length, the vegetable notes of the palate become more like green tea on the finish, a hint of spice and leather in the aftertaste yet agreeable sweetness predominates.
